

CADUCEON Analysis Turnaround Update November 10th, 2021

- CADUCEON is currently undergoing a large increase in sample submissions that is pushing the limits of our daily capacity.
- As a result, you may experience some delays in your laboratory results from your expected turnaround time.
- We kindly request your patience at this time as your CADUCEON staff works diligently to push out your quality data as quick as they can
- Should you require information about your specific projects/samples, please call your local CADUCEON laboratory and we will provide you updates.
- In some instances, CADUCEON may be able to provide you preliminary reports. Please contact your local CADUCEON laboratory to request this option.

We thank you for your patronage and understanding with this and appreciate your efforts in working with us.
